

United States
Department of Agriculture

Become an Earth Team Volunteer

Natural Resources Conservation Service

Make a Difference! Join the Colorado Earth Team! The USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) is looking for motivated volunteers, ages 14 and up, to help in field offices.

The Earth Team provides a variety of opportunities: outdoor or indoor activities; and as an individual or part of a group. There is something for everyone.

Gain valuable work experience while helping protect America's natural resources!

What will I be doing?

As an Earth Team volunteer, you will be working side by side with professional conservationists to plan and deliver conservation on private lands.

Duties vary based on interests and availability, and include clerical work, outreach events, and field work.

You will share your skills, learn new ones, meet new people and be part of a dedicated, national conservation effort.

Where will Earth Team take you?

Several NRCS employees began their careers as Earth Team volunteers. Join today and gain valuable knowledge and workplace experience that will help build your resume.

If you're considering a career in natural resources, consider joining the Earth Team to kick start your career!

What is the Earth Team?

The Earth Team is a component of the USDA's Natural Resources Conservation Service, the federal government's primary private lands conservation agency.

Earth Team volunteers help the agency fulfill its commitment to support farmers and ranchers in their voluntary conservation efforts to keep working lands working, boost rural economies, and increase the competitiveness of American agriculture.

The Earth Team offers numerous volunteer opportunities for students, retirees, veterans and others who care about conservation and are seeking to make a difference in their communities.

Contact

If you are interested in gaining valuable work experience while helping protect Colorado's natural resources, please contact:

Alyson Keaton, State Earth Team Coordinator at Alyson.Keaton@usda.gov or visit any NRCS local field office to apply

Protect the environment | Learn new skills | Earn service credit

USDA is an equal opportunity provider, employer and lender.