

NRCS and RCD Greater San Diego County Local Work Group Meeting Agenda

Tuesday August 18, 2026 1:00pm - 2:00pm

Farm Bureau Office

420 S. Broadway Escondido, CA

Link to join virtually

Agenda:

1. Introductions – producers and agencies
2. RCD program highlights
3. NRCS Presentation
 - a. Group discussion questions
 - b. Present survey results and additional responses
 - c. Regional priority setting

RSVP encouraged but not required: Register here!

The objectives of the Local Working Group encompass gathering input on natural and agricultural resource priorities, programs, and projects, facilitating coordination among stakeholders, and seeking recommendations regarding the implementation of NRCS Farm Bill conservation programs. These programs include the Environmental Quality Incentives Program and Conservation Stewardship Program. NRCS will provide stakeholders with details on conservation initiatives that could be extended and applied within the local context. Your feedback on NRCS programs is instrumental in deciding the allocation of funds and shaping the focus of state and national funding initiatives outlined in the Farm Bill.

The Resource Conservation District of Greater San Diego County oversees multiple natural resource programs and projects while also working in conjunction with the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) to provide technical assistance and outreach for Farm Bill conservation programs. This collaborative partnership between NRCS and RCDGSDC establishes a robust support network, offering resources and assistance for various projects and programs aimed at conservation efforts. We look forward to your participation.

USDA is an equal opportunity provider, employer and lender